

ROTARY CLUBS TO HOLD RALLY HERE TUESDAY

Three States Represented in Big Get-Together Meeting of Business Men.

Social Features and 'Stunts' Local Club Will Entertain 300 Visitors From This and Adjoining States—Events Will Be Recorded in Moving Pictures.

The rally of the Fourth, or South-eastern, Division of the Rotary Club, composed of Virginia, North and South Carolina Rotary Clubs, will assemble in Richmond on Tuesday morning, beginning at 7 o'clock in the morning and continuing until midnight Tuesday night. During this time the Richmond Rotary Club expects to carry out the idea that the genius homo takes himself too seriously, anyway.

At the same time the local club is entertaining 300 members from the neighboring States it expects to carry out the idea of rotary clubs in general, which is that business men, not only of communities, but also business men of great sections of the country, ought to know each other and ought to know each other's business. Business men from the two Carolinas and from other cities in Virginia will be constantly reminded all during Tuesday that they are ordinary human beings.

The rally promises to start at 7 o'clock at the Main Street Station, where the host, the Richmond Rotary Club, begins to welcome its guests from the South. All during the day there will be things of interest. Every hour has been crowded until more things are promised on the program than it appears possible to crowd into the space of time allotted.

JUDGE STAPLES, OF ROANOKE, TO MAKE AN ADDRESS

Some time between the hours of 10 and 12 o'clock Tuesday evening there will be a session of the club in the Richmond Hotel. At this time the first business to be attended to will be the reports of the presidents of the various clubs. This will prove of considerable interest to the various members.

Judge Walter L. Staples, of Roanoke, will deliver an address on "What Shall We Do With Our Involuntary Rotarians?" He will be followed by W. H. Bagley, business manager of the News and Observer of Raleigh, the subject of whose address is "How May Rotary Be Given to the Smaller Towns and Country Without Giving Them a Rotary Club?"

The "stunts" arranged by the committee are of such originality that it is expected that a moving-picture concern will have a camera man here to take several hundred feet of film.

CAPIAS AGAINST BOZEMAN

Local Claim Is Laid Against Man Who Is Charged With Theft of Piano.

Just as he was about to leave the Henrico Jail for King and Queen counties, where he will answer a County warrant charging the theft of a piano from the A. J. Crafts Piano Company, J. C. Bozeman was yesterday re-arrested by Sheriff Sydney of Henrico, on a capias to appear in a civil suit instituted against him by A. J. and Emma L. Brown. This means that he will be held by the King and Queen authorities, pending trial of the suit brought by his creditors.

Such a process as that served on Bozeman yesterday is very rare in the annals of Virginia courts, and is only resorted to when the parties bringing

ROANOKE GETS CAMP

Roanoke has been definitely settled upon by military authorities as the site this year for the annual officers' training camp of the Virginia militia. Other places, including Virginia Beach, where is situated the State rifle range, made strong bids for the camp, but the Military Department of the Southwest was selected by reason of its location and its facilities for taking care of the men.

All officers of the Infantry and those of the Signal Corps will be at the camp for training. Captain A. M. Shipp, assigned to duty with the Virginia Volunteers, will, with the assistance of four detailed army officers, direct the course of instruction. The camp will open May 28.

During the stay at Roanoke, the officers will take a course of instruction in tactical walks, strategy, military administration, paper work and first-aid to the injured. Artillery officers will encamp at Tobanna, Penn., from May 21 to June 1.

Display of Industrial Classes

Seating and industrial work of the Baker-Armstrong Night School, colored, will be publicly displayed tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock in the Armstrong school building, First and Leigh Streets.

Evidence Partly Heard

The jury in the Law and Equity Court, hearing the suit of Blake against the Virginia Railway and Power Company for $2,000 damages for personal injuries, was adjourned yesterday afternoon until tomorrow.

HOLLAND WANTS U-BOATS

Many Plans Orders in United States for Submarines to Increase Efficiency of Navy.

THE HAGUE, NETHERLANDS, April 29.—One of the latest suggestions put forward by some well-known advocates of a stronger Dutch fleet is that a big order for submarines shall be placed in America. At present, save for some half a dozen submarines and two cruisers that are either definitely building or have been ordered, nothing is being done in the way of new construction. The Minister for the Navy, Captain J. J. Rabonnet, argues that no definite conclusions can yet be drawn from the naval war; but it is pointed out that the value of the submarine is already beyond all doubt. Holland is, however, dependent on foreign countries for certain parts of the highly specialized underwater craft.

"But why not go to America if the German wharves cannot do anything?" asks a well-known retired naval officer and advocate of naval re-armament. J. can der Elst. "Mitrailleuses and aeroplanes have been already obtained there during the war, and orders for a score or two of submarines ought to be likewise placed in the United States."

SAYS HOT WATER WASHES POISONS FROM THE LIVER

Everyone should drink hot water with phosphate in it, before breakfast.

To feel as fine as the proverbial fiddle, we must keep the liver washed clean, almost every morning to prevent its sponge-like pores from clogging with indigestible material, sour bile and poisonous toxins, says a noted physician.

If you get headaches, it's your liver. If you catch cold easily, it's your liver. If you wake up with a bad taste, furred tongue, heavy breath, or stomach becomes rancid, it's your liver. Sallow skin, muddy complexion, watery eyes all denote liver uncleanness. Your liver is the most important, also the most abused and neglected organ of the body. Few know its importance or how to release the damned-up body waste, bile and toxins. Most folks resort to violent cathartics, which do little but irritate, and occasionally cause it to accumulate in the tissues, also attacks the bones.

Every man and woman, sick or well, should drink each morning before breakfast a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of Limestone phosphate in it, to wash from the liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, the poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Limestone phosphate does not re-stimulate the diet like calomel, because it cannot salivate, for it is harmless and you can eat anything afterwards. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless, and any pharmacist will sell you a quarter pound which is sufficient for a demonstration of how hot water and limestone phosphate cleans, stimulates and freshens the liver, keeping you feeling fit day in and day out.

FIRE DAMAGE MAY CAUSE WESTMORELAND TO MOVE

Directors of Club to Decide Whether Repairs Will Be Made or Location Changed.

ELECTRIC WIRES START BLAZE

Valuable Paintings Escape Damage in Conflagration, Which Causes $10,000 Loss to Famous Landmark at Sixth and Grace Streets.

Fire, originating in the pantry on the second floor of the Westmoreland Club, Sixth and Grace Streets, at an early hour yesterday morning, did about $10,000 damage and seriously endangered the lives of five members, who were asleep. The blaze is thought to have started from a defective wire. The loss is covered by insurance.

Members of the club, when questioned concerning plans for rebuilding, were unable to state what course would be pursued. Several have been in favor of moving the club to the West End, and it is thought possible that, rather than repair the damaged building, the move may be made at this time. However, nothing definite could be ascertained, and no announcement will be made until after the next meeting of the board of directors.

Practically all of the rear rooms of the building were damaged by fire and water, although the streams were handled carefully by the firemen, so as to do as little damage as possible. The library and valuable collection of paintings escaped with scarcely any injury, although furniture suffered to some extent.

HAVE HARD FIGHT TO BEAT DOWN BLAZE

Low Dixon, colored, discovered the fire and at once gave the alarm. He awakened Manager Lee Thaw, who at once called the members sleeping in the building and warned them of their danger. They were: Frank Nalle, J. F. McGrath, general Charles J. Anderson, John Pickrell and E. L. Tessler. Before they had completed their arrangements for leaving the building a large force of fire fighters had arrived and Assistant Chief Wise was directing the laying of hose lines through the building.

The firemen found that a great part of the conflagration was confined in the walls of the building, and were successful in extinguishing it only after a stubborn fight. The smoke and heat impeded the work. Although the blaze was thought to be out after about a two-hour fight, firemen were not withdrawn from the scene until about 7:30 o'clock.

The Westmoreland is one of the oldest and most exclusive clubs in the South. It was formed in 1877 by General Harry Heth and others, and included on its rolls at the time many of the more prominent of the Southern officers. Its library and paintings are regarded as among the best in the city, and are highly prized.

REPORTS ON CALL TO OREGON

Only Military Aspects of Situation at Border and Beyond Can Be Considered by Conference—New Life Infused Into Mexican Troops.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—The only dispatch to the War Department made public today was one from Major General Scott reporting his call on General Obregon last night, and adding that the visit had been a pleasant one. Officials thought it indicated General Scott believed a satisfactory understanding could be reached with General Obregon as to future movements of American troops in Mexico.

Secretary Baker to-day would add nothing to his official announcement several days ago that the meeting was for the purpose of securing cordial co-operation of the de facto government officials in carrying the object sought by both governments.

At the State Department it was said the chief of staff, while he could talk over diplomatic aspects of the situation with General Obregon, could go no further in that regard than to report on the points raised, as he is in no sense a State Department representative.

Only the military aspect of the situation at the border and beyond can be formally considered by the conference, and whatever General Scott may indicate as to the determination to restrain the troops in Mexico until all danger of border raids has passed, it is believed here that his chief purpose will be to secure co-operation in the way of use of Mexican railroads to supply the troops; a definite understanding as to what course shall be pursued when the Americans approach town, and to what extent they may be enabled to purchase supplies, and, also, possibly, some arrangement for interchange of information that would aid in running down the bandits, either by American or Mexican forces.

If General Obregon makes a suggestion of a definite date for withdrawal of the Americans, or for a method of determining when the danger of border raids has passed, it will be considered by the State Department, it is understood, when the question of drafting a reply to the Carranza note is again taken up.

Reports from the border continue to indicate that General Obregon has infused new life into the Mexican troops in the region where Villa was last reported, and where American cavalry encountered his adherents. It was suggested that the return of Carranza troops to the Guerrero region might be for the purpose of pressing the advantage over the bandits gained by the American forces in their rapid drive. So far as known, there are few American patrols now in that section. Another indication of the spirit in which General Obregon came to the conference is found in advice that when he passed through Chihuahua he ordered released all supplies shipped from the border for the American troops and detained by Carranza commanders.

State Department advisers reported quiet in Mexico City and elsewhere in Mexico, although about seventy Americans are gathered at Mazatlan and Manzanillo, on the west coast, awaiting transportation to the United States.
